

Lumino User Guide

First Usage

When you receive your Lumino electronic cigarette it will come full charged and ready to use. All that is required for first use is that you insert a new cartridge to the atomizer and make sure that the atomizer is screwed firmly to the battery.

To fit a new cartridge to the atomizer hold the white battery end of the Lumino electronic cigarette firmly with one hand then with your other hand pull the brown mouthpiece (blank cartridge) from the cigarette, leaving the atomizer exposed.

Now take a new cartridge from the pack and remove the rubber plug from it, now all you need to do is push the new cartridge onto the atomizer so the electronic cigarette looks the same as it did when you first started.

The Lumino electronic cigarette will now be ready to use, you will need to repeat this process whenever your cartridge runs out of Liquid and stops creating vapour.

To use your Lumino electronic cigarette simply draw on it like you would a normal tobacco cigarette, the Lumino electronic cigarette may get slightly warm during use, this is perfectly normal for an electronic cigarette and is simply due to the heating process required to create the vapour the electronic cigarette may also make a slight hissing sound during use occasionally which is simply due to air being drawn through the atomization chamber.

Charging the Lumino electronic cigarette

To charge the Lumino electronic cigarette you will need a USB charger or USB/MAINS charger which can be purchased from our website.

The Lumino electronic cigarette indicates that its charge is low by the battery light flickering on and off during use instead of creating a constant glow as it does when it is adequately charged or if it is totally without charge it will not light up at all when the user inhales on the mouthpiece.

To charge the unit, simply plug the usb charger into a usb port of your choice you will see that the indicator light on the charger will glow green.

Now take your Lumino electronic cigarette and remove its atomizer, to do this hold the white battery end firmly with one hand whilst you unscrew the brown cartridge end anti clockwise until the atomizer and cartridge are disconnected from the battery completely.

Once you have the battery simply screw it clock wise into the usb charger, the battery will indicate that it is screwed far enough into the charger, when the battery light starts flashing which indicates that it has started charging, the charging light on the usb charger will also change colour from green to red to indicate that the battery is charging.

The usb charging light will change colour again to indicate that the battery is fully charged.

To charge via mains you need to plug the mains adaptor into a mains unit, and then follow the same usb charging instructions as described above.

TIP: To lengthen the usage time between charges disconnect the atomizer from the battery during times of non use, as when the atomizer and battery are connected the electronic cigarette is in standby mode which uses battery charge.
